Telebusiness

One person, briefed by you on your business, generating leads and opportunities whenever you need them.

Just as you trust your Moneypenny PA to handle your inbound calls, we'll now provide you with your own bright and articulate salesperson to make outbound calls for you. Working closely with you whenever you need a sales resource, your Moneypenny Salesperson will represent your business confidently and professionally.

Employed for an enviable track record of success, your salesperson will quickly become a key part of your team. We know you'll judge us on results.

Business opportunities will be recognised quickly and efficiently, ensuring you have the best possible return on investment when gaining new clients.

How it works:

Briefed by you, your own Moneypenny Salesperson will work with you to understand your business, your products and your approach. Whether you need assistance with a lengthy campaign or sales activity on an ad-hoc basis, we'll be there to support you.

Key Facts:

Benefit from the support of an in-house salesperson, without the associated employment costs

Costs:

Every campaign is unique and requires a different approach. Simply call to discuss your thoughts and we will tailor a package specific to you.
